

Degorth

Degorth is a gray wolf with an aversion to pants. He is currently the Head Administrator of Neurofurs Station. A second, less visible form is as a massive brain in a tank hidden away in the sprawling corridors of the Station. Some could argue this is his “true form.”

Appearance

Grey wolf, usually wearing a hoodie and nothing else. His head is permanently open, giving a good look at his brain (while it's still in his head).

The huge brain is not normally visible unless it wishes to be.

Personality

Easy going and not too worried about keeping his brain safe, he's happy to rub some lobes when given the opportunity.

The giant brain is normally reclusive and sticks to its massive tank except on certain occasions where it may teleport itself into the lounge to mingle. It's not normally possible to visit Degorth's brain unless he is expecting you as the hallways leading to him seem non-euclidean.
