

Zoxlan

Zoxlan is a big-brained male kobold with the ability to control machines and electronics using his brain. He arrived on the station with Jago the Moon Dragon.

Appearance

Standing at roughly 4ft tall, this hyper reptilian boasts a very high intelligence and a knack for invention. His brain audibly sloshes and throbs, becoming noticeable when he's focusing fairly hard on a particular task. He never wears much clothing, choosing instead to wear a simple bandolier and loincloth that's far too small to cover anything.

Personality

Despite being a certified genius, he is still a kobold, and as such is rather dismissive of cultures and societies not his own. He is mischievous, often using his technomancy abilities to mess with people. Unlike most Kobolds, Zoxlan does not have a natural desire to serve Dragons, instead seeing the stereotype as insulting.
